AI Business Now

Artificial Intelligence (AI) is the biggest disruption to the business world since Henry Ford's assembly line .

More specifically, Fintech as an industry has been undergoing a massive transformation with the onslaught of chatbots & AI technology. In this current tech revolution, AI based products and research are the most sought-after resources as the world is avidly learning how the realm of automation, machine learning, robotics, and analytics can benefit them. Financial services institutes are searching for products to help them ease and automate their mundane tasks, providing their customers with consistent services, behaviour analysis, and even effective fraud detection.

So what kind of product can provide an organization with the consistency and automation which will help increase their efficiency and services?

What are the five must haves for a best of class Fintech AI product?

1) Regulatory Compliance
2) Security & Fraud Protection
3) Ease of Financial Transactions
4) Client Risk Evaluation & Profiles
5) Automated Customer Service
